NUTSHELL 1972

MOORESTOWN
SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

there is more than enough to remember too many pressures

too many decisions to make sometimes i wish i could leave but i won't run away

staying can't be easy

but in doing what i do best there is satisfaction

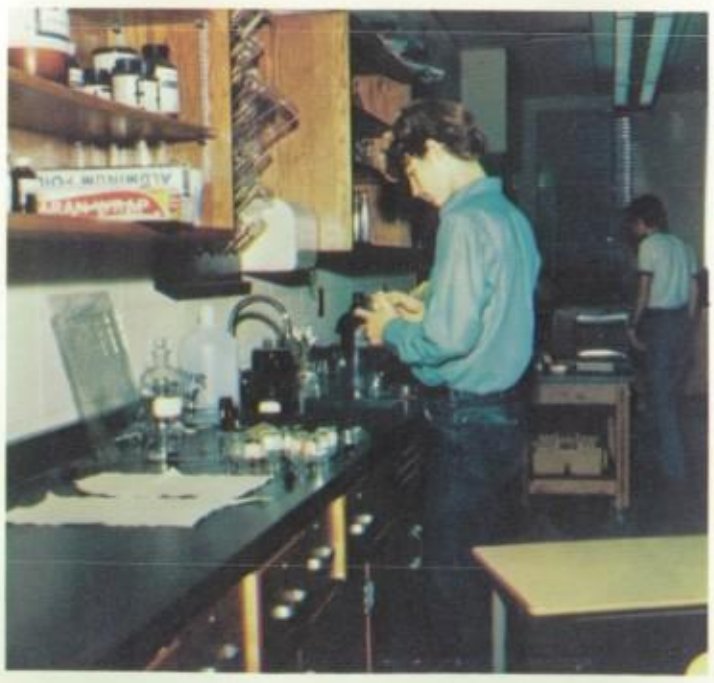
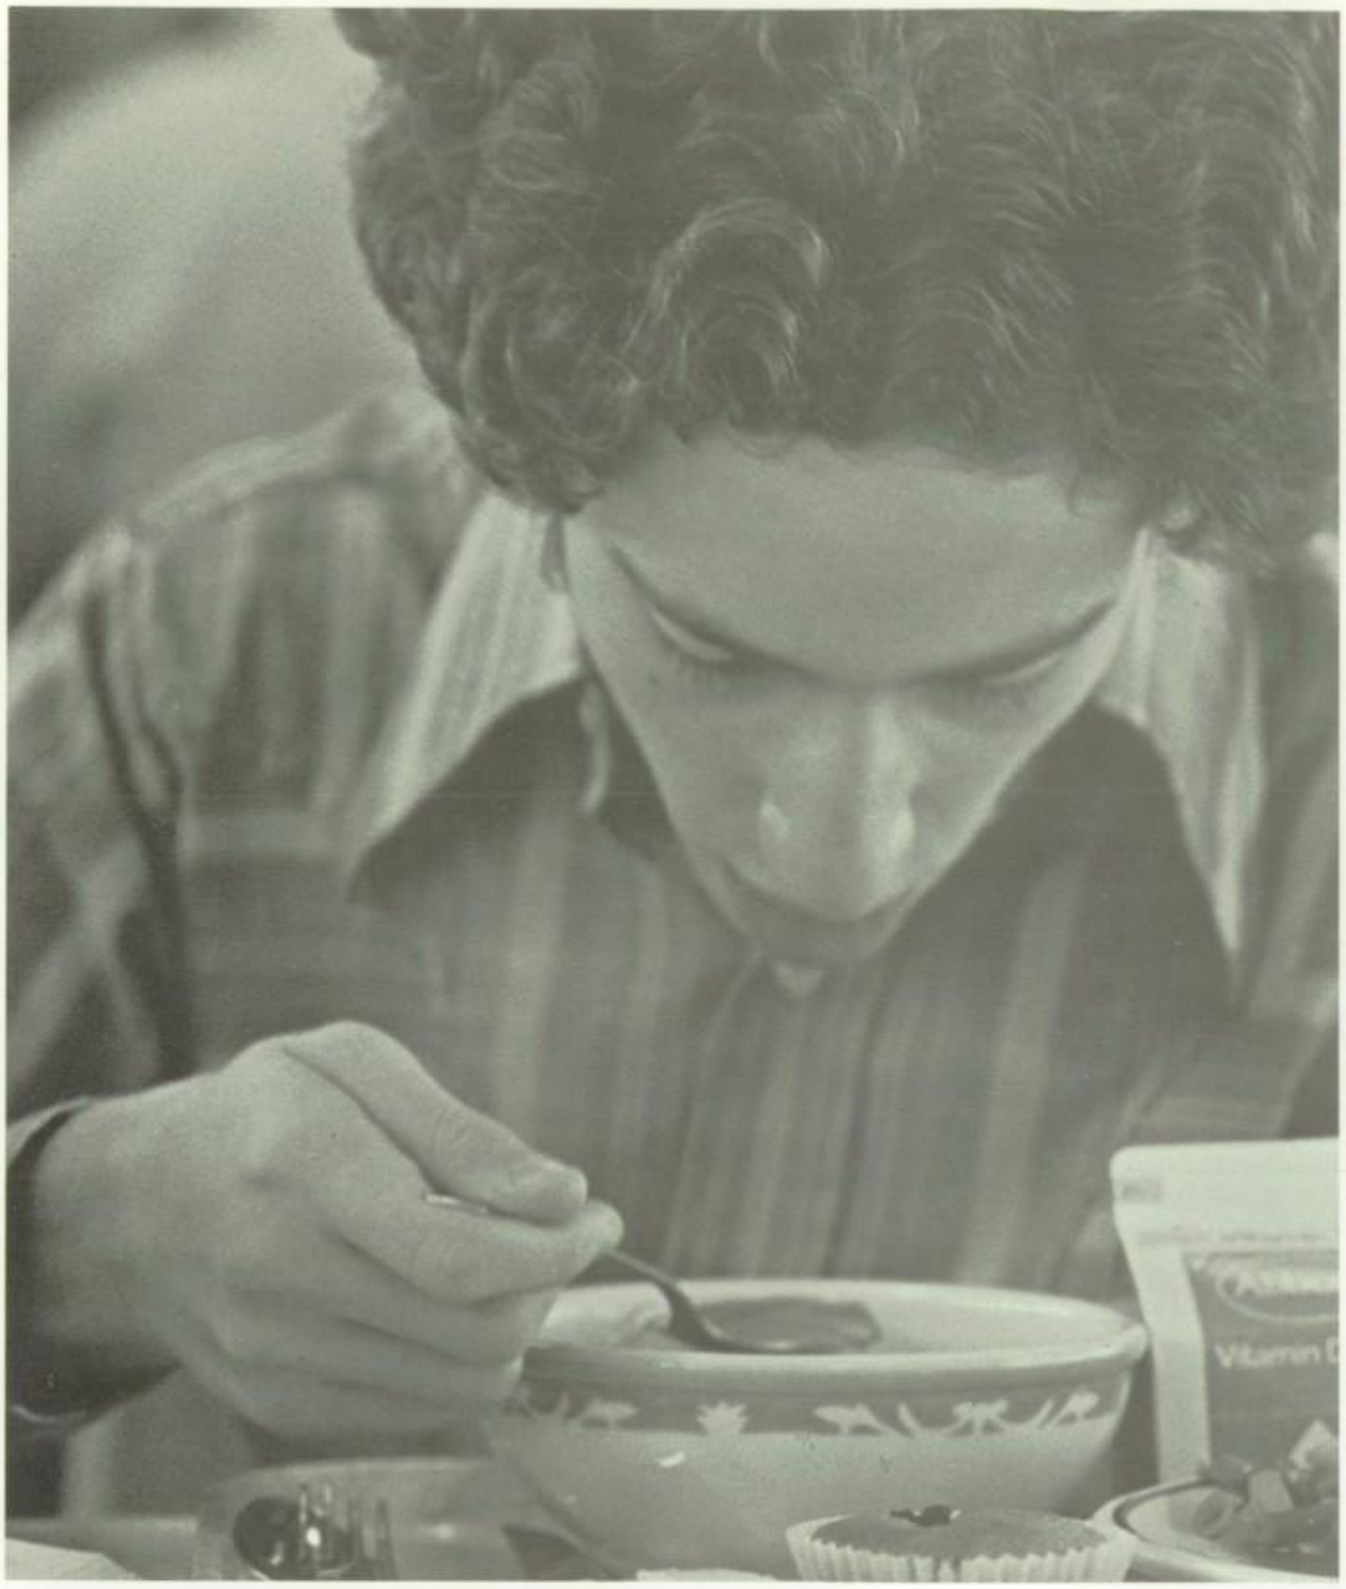
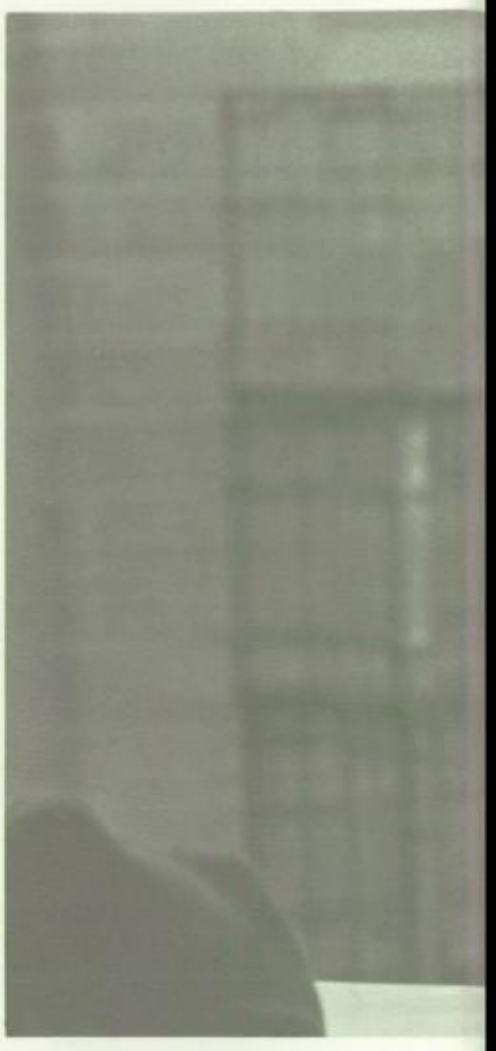
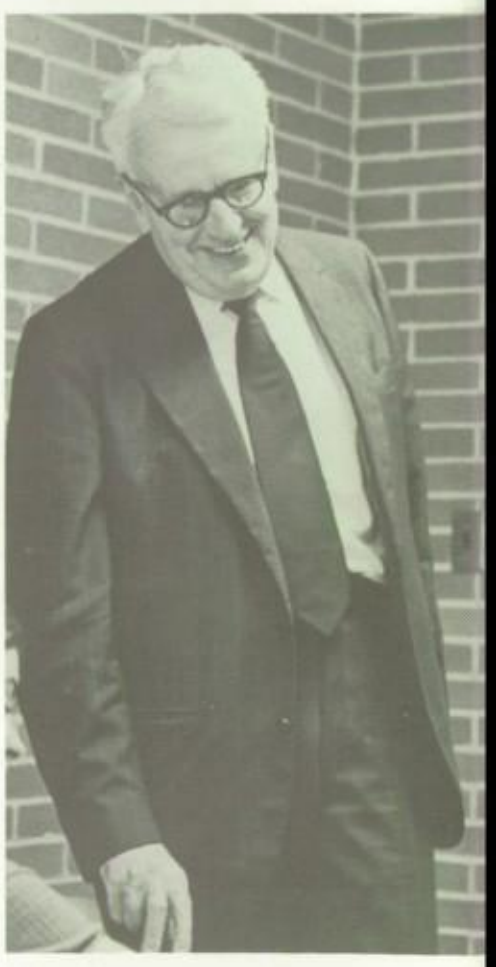
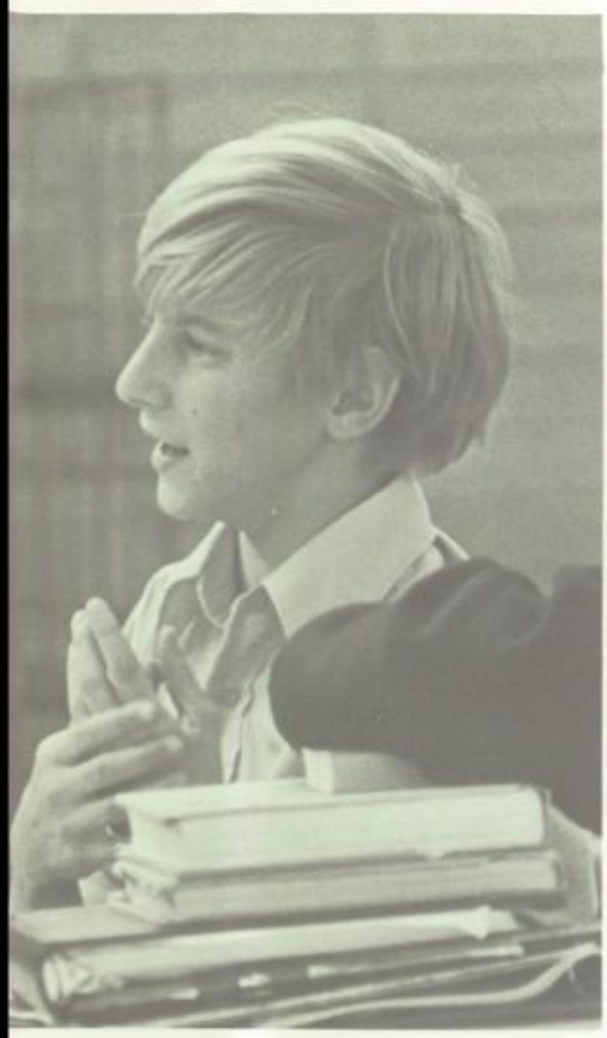
and i can be happy.











". . . are you ready?" . . . a million and one american heritage reports . . . "i lift weights" . . . "professionally speaking, students" . . . comes from the great metropolis of delanco . . . "wild bill" . . . the great chalk-smoker . . . freddy mundrotz . . . essay tests

dedication

the 1972 nutshell is dedicated to william rizos, whose principle of life is that all people are human beings and deserve equal respect.

not just a good instructor, but a great teacher . . . not only for his jokes, his lectures, his personality . . . but for his ability to stimulate, excite, and challenge eager-and uneager-minds.

from the class of '72 . . . thank you.

football

though this year's varsity squad registered an average 4-4-1 record for the season, football supplied great excitement during the fall as a number of individual players had excellent seasons. multitalented senior bill ray led the league in pass receptions with 29, and also played such an outstanding defensive back that he was named to numerous burlington county and south jersey all-star teams. seniors sam allen, who led the team in tackles with 97, and greg ransom, who starred at fullback and middle linebacker, were also named as burlington county all-stars.

cross country

after seven seasons of hard work in obscurity, this season was a sweet reward for coach william thomas and the cross country runners. completing a tough schedule with an excellent 9-3 regular season record, the team went on to upset a number of high-ranked schools to win the group iii south jersey crown. they then surprised the entire state by taking 3rd place in the group iii state tournameet, defeating such recognized state powers as triton high school.

this year's squad was led by senior rollin johnson and junior burt pschunder, who were both named to the burlington county all-star team. seniors john catts, tom jaggard, and chris grover, as well as juniors david orth and russell martin, rounded out this year's talented unit, which will probably bring a number of future running titles to moorestown high.

field hockey

keeping with tradition, moorestown's girl's varsity field hockey team, under the leadership of coaches veronica jones and barbara steibritz, captured the burlington county league title, with an overall record of 8-2-4, and competed in the first state championship tournament.

this year's team was led by five outstanding seniors: anne dickenson, who was the team captain; kathy phillips, one of the league's best fullbacks; phillis parrish, the team's all-star goalie; and carol maguire and marie mckenzie, whose hustling play personified the team's spirited style.

led by a tight defense that yielded just 19 goals in 14 games, this year's varsity soccer team complied a respectable 6-7-1 league record. two seniors, dave dibaise and scott macdougall, had exceptional season records, and established themselves as two of the finest high school players in south jersey. dibaise, whose clutch goaltending kept the quakers in a number of close games, was voted to the all-state team, an honor which had never been previously given to a member of a morrestown soccer team. macdougall, who teamed with greg chinn to give moorestown two of the finest fullbacks in the country, established a new team record for defensive play, and was voted to a number of local all-star teams. senior mike clark, who led the team in scoring, also had an excellent season, and was often mentioned on postseason all-star ballots. particularly pleasing to all was the play of turkish exchange student adymir kinali, who finished third on the team in scoring and was named to the burlington county all-star team. expectations for next year are also high due to the success of the junior varsity, who complied a tremendous 11-2-1 record.

basketball

under new coach william kingston, the varsity basketball squad suffered through a trying 7-16 season. though the squad's record was not outstanding, the team did manage to play solid basketball, and suffered seven of its loses by less than seven points each. individual stars included seniors tim savage and steve shreve, who were the teams top scorers, and playmaker laffayete smith, whose floor leadership and tough defense kept the quakers in a number of close contests. next year's squad, which will include returning juniors dick schneider and leon eldridge, will be strengthened by a junior varsity team which won three of its last four games.

bowling

this year's bowling squad had its finest combined season with the girl's team finishing first in their league, while the boys' finished second in their group. individual stars included jim kerr, john perper, and curt munson, who paced the boy's in per-game average, and carol foell and kathy wilson, who tied for the lead in girl's averages. for coach ashman and all the bowlers, the season was a truly rewarding time, as many days of hard work paid off in an excellent year.

winter track

continuing the tradition of track excellence established during their last two years of work, the 1971 winter track squad finished another season of competition without a defeat. nine school records fell to this excellent unit, with captain greg chinn setting two individual records and combining with other members of the squad to break two other relay records. other outstanding performances included such feats as fred hall's record-tieing 5.5 50-yard dash in the delaware valley meet of champions and a record-breaking 3:31.5 time in the philadelphia track classic by the mile-relay squad of fred hall, tom o'donnell, marc moore, and phil clapperton. the 2-mile relay team also distinguished itself with an amazing time of 8:29 in the state group III races, earning for chris grover, rollin johnson, burt pschunder, and tom jaggard a new meet record. for all track participants, this season represented the best in winter track yet seen in moorestown, and for coaches taylor and hallowell, it serves as an excellent example of what can be expected from the school's track program in the coming years.

girls basketball

enjoying one of their finest seasons, the girls varsity basketball team finished with an overall record of 10-5 for the year. led by such fine players as senior denise roth, the girls performed well throughout the year, and displayed steady improvement. an extremely talented junior varsity squad which also finished with an overall record of 10-5 gives bright hopes for continued success for coach lehman next season.

wrestling

though sparked by the talents of three area champions, this year's varsity finished with an average record of 8-6 overall. a fast early spurt of five consecutive victories seemed to give the grapplers a good chance for a burlington county championship, but the crucial loss of talented paul davis hurt the team deeply, and the league crown unfortunately escaped them. excellent individual performances abounded, as veteran talent such as sam allen, russ trice, and jim hodgen performed brilliantly. all three of these boys eventually advanced to the state's district tournament level, and sam allen continued into the state tournament matches at princeton.

the tennis team will again this year return another group of excellent players in an attempt to continue its string of championship seasons. last year's 16-0 unit lost five players, including such stars as bill cox, peter mongeau, and larry treu, through graduation, but a good group again looks to replace them. coach jendral, who continues year after year to build champions, will look to such players as mike clark, bill mulvee, and greg haines as the quakers aim to continue their domination of the courts.

coach loring starts his fifth year as golf coach this spring with a career record of 58-14-7 in match play, and with the team he has returning, should better it significantly. junior bruce disbrow, who played exceptionally well as a sophomore with a 16-3-3 record, will again lead the group. bill honan and mark nutter, another pair of juniors, will also be looking to improve their equally fine records of 16-5-1 and 13-6-1, respectively. senior dean leonard and juniors tom ritter and tom zanger will also be expected to continue moorestown's strong play on the links this season.

baseball

entering his 30th baseball season at moorestown, coach wearshing faces a major rebuilding job, having only one returning starter from last season's 7-11 varsity squad. two senior pitchers, steve shreve and scott macdougall, are being counted on to handle most of the mound chores, while senior leftfielder lafayette smith will lead the batting attack. one bright spot this year should be the development of junior ron hamilton, a .400-hitting first baseman who starred on last year's junior varsity squad. other junior varsity stars such as senior rich bendel and junior jim porter are also expected to see a great deal of playing time this season.

track

this year's track team looks to be a major powerhouse in the county and in the state through the season. coming off an excellent 9-1 overall record, the team returns almost intact from last year, with new and improved veteran personnel expecting to surpass last year's individual and team marks. greg chinn, who captained the indoor team this winter, returns to again give moorestown strength in the high and low hurdles and the broad jump. high jumper bob blackburn, middle-distance men phil clapperton and tom o'donnell, and long-distance man burt pschunder (all of whom had a hand in shattering seven school records last year) will also be returning to round out a superbly talented group.

at your own risk

after a slow and somewhat painful start, MHS was blessed by the presence of an improvisational theatre group. the group was dedicated to making a good time, both for its members and its audiences. "our group is intended to give budding actors and actresses first-hand experience in the dramatic field, with a live audience, and lights, and everything! this is now a closed group!"

editor's note

my first discovery this year was: it is absolutely impossible to please everybody. In order to equally represent each student, faculty and administration member of this school, we would have had to divide 224 papes into approximately 1500 pieces!

this was our first year with paragon publishing company. we gave more pages to the senior section and used the dividers for artistic creativity. because of the general response to some of the ideas in last year's book, team pictures were put back in, as were homeroom shots for underclassmen.

and so, in the end, the 1972 nutshell is a reflection of this year at mhs; hopefully a completely unbiased one, but probably not so. it is the end product of the filtration of many ideas, re-writes, pictures and pictures, and serveral long-standing feuds. there were many times that i thought we wouldn't put a book together because the eight editors couldn't agree. we'd like to think that the book shows a wide enough view of this year to make you remember your own year here.

i want to thank mr. sprague, especially, for all the hassles that everbody put him through; mr. boehmler, who was invaluable in meeting deadlines and in signing announcements; mr. bob potts, paragon publishing company's representative, who pulled us through every problem with a "don't worry—i'll take care of it"; and to all the editors and staff who lost sleep and their sanity, a special thank you for their efforts.

it hasn't been easy, and it hasn't always been fun, but we learned . . . probably more than we realize. hopefully, from looking at the book you can remember and learn, too.

For generations we have tried to make the world a better place by providing more and more schooling, but so far the endeavor has failed. What we have learned instead is that forcing all children to climb an open-ended education ladder cannot enhance quality but must favor the individual who starts out earlier, healthier, or better prepared; that enforced instruction deadens for most people the will for independent learning; and that knowledge treated as a commodity, delivered in packages, and accepted as private property once it is acquired, must always be scarce.

Service and Integrity are most important words in our vocabulary. We want you as a life-long friend, not as a statistic. Our memories are long, not short.

As a Real Estate Client, today you are a Buyer and tomorrow a Seller. As an Insurance Client, today you pay a Premium and tomorrow collect a Claim. You expect service and integrity. We have supplied both for 47 successful years.

Obviously we know our community and our business. Consider the service and integrity of our trained experienced personnel when you buy, sell, or insure real and personal property. Our office is ready to serve you.

This year continued the fevered pitch of last year. We provided chariots for the Lenola Home and School Fair, supped in splendor, entertained kiddies on bleak Saturdays, and rounded out the year with a (g)orgy. Those who went to Rome will remember the times with glee. Thanks for the cooperation and best of luck next year.
